

WHAT'S YOUR STORY?

GET READY TO TELL IT.

The Veterans Writing Project is coming to Albany, and we need veterans and their family members who want to experience the process, the catharsis, and the thrill of owning their experiences through writing.

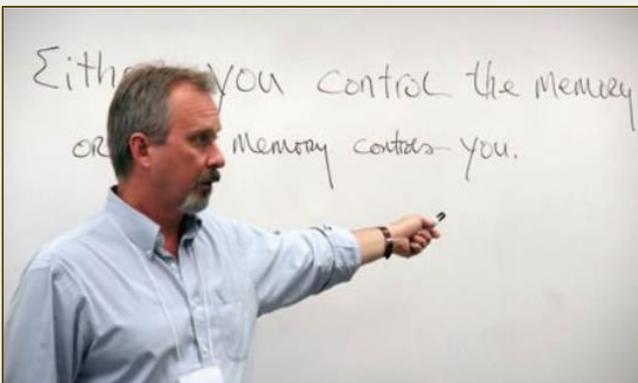

THE VETERANS WRITING PROJECT is a D.C.-based nonprofit that provides no-cost writing workshops for veterans, active duty, and military family members.

They also publish a literary review, O-Dark-Thirty, that includes fiction, nonfiction, poetry and plays about the military experience.

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE?

Veterans, current members of the armed forces (active or reserve), and military or veterans' family members. It doesn't matter when or where the veteran served. All are welcome.

And it's all free thanks to our generous sponsors.

WHEN?

7 + 8 OCT 2017

0845 - 1700 hours

*Breakfast and lunch will be served (we promise it's better than chow)

*All participants should plan on attending both days, all day

WHERE?

Empire State College, NE Campus
21 British American Blvd., Latham

HOW DO YOU SIGN UP?

Send an email to event host, Ryan Smithson - ryan.smithson@esc.edu

Ryan is an Iraq War veteran, Capital Region native, and author of "Ghosts of War: The True Story of a 19-Year-Old GI." He is an alumni and adjunct instructor at Empire State College and lives in Rotterdam with his wife and two children.

@AuthorSmithson

OUR SPONSORS

